that the majority having no unjust privileges, to support, will be led by their own self-love to promote justice and equal rights. The interest of the majority leads them to make war against monopoly—their very selfishness is on the side of right. The selfishness of the privileged few, on the other hand leads them to support monopolies, vested rights and exclusive privileges. Not having justice on their side, they are constantly appealing to law, and laws can always be found to support every kind of injustice. The majority appeal to the principles of universal justice, and under a few government to the Constitution.

(F) Noah, and other whig editors are arguing against the resumption of specie payments! Let the democrats insist upon the resumption at the earliest possible day—it can be done better within six months than afterwards. Here is the issue—

The democrats are against—a national bank—a connection between state and bank—an irredeemable paper currency—all bills below twenty dollars, and special grants of bank charters.

The whigs are in favor of—a national bank to hold the government funds and to control the currency of the country—an irredeemable paper currency—small bills, and granting charters by special acts of legislation.

Which creed do the honest and industrious citizens of America like the best?

(F) The whigs are mightily tickled because they have made a gain in a small county in Mississippi in the recent election, but it has always been an Adams county.

We have only the result of the Adams county vote, which stands thus:—

Administration, Whig.
Clairborne, 210 Prentiss, 577
Gholson, 187 Ace, 556

The National Intelligence remarks, that "no judgment can be formed of the result, until after the returns are received." That's a good caution.

The following is a part of the conclusion of Mr Rantoul's oration:—"To deliver us from thralldom to the Banks a sound currency is indispensable. There are in the world more than four thousand millions of dollars worth of gold and silver, coined and uncoined taken together. Of this we want sixty millions only, in addition to what we now have, to give us a currency as solid as that of France, which is nine-tenths specie. A tenth of our exports would pay for it in six years. If we will it we shall have it. It must be had. The war against abhorred paper must go on, till liberty is triumphant."

The Hon. Aaron Vanderpool, of New York, being on a visit to Chicago, Ill., a meeting of the Democratic party was called. The Mayor took the chair, and, after several appropriate and highly interesting speeches from different gentlemen present, a committee was appointed to tender him a public dinner and another to make the necessary arrangements therefor. But the domestic afflictions of Mr Vanderpool necessitated him to decline the honor conferred upon him, an honor which, under ordinary circumstances, he would have accepted with pleasure.

Counterfeit Quack Medicines.—A learned physician remarked to us a day or two since, that of the various quack medicines that were abroad, the counterfeit kinds were the best and the safest, for this very good reason—The genuine are put up by their inventor who is generally a blundering ignoramus, whereas the counterfeit are put up by some skillful druggist, who conscientiously avoids mixing with them any pernicious ingredients. Hence, our medical friend advised, that the public, instead of being cautioned against the counterfeit quack medicines, should be cautioned against the genuine, and advised to use the counterfeit, as being more safe.

"The sword," says Mahomet, "is the key of heaven and hell; a drop of blood shed in the cause of God, a night spent in arms, is of more avail than two months of fasting and prayer; whoever falls in battle his sins are forgiven him. At the day of judgment his wounds shall be as resplendent as vermilion, and odoriferous as musk; and the loss of his limbs shall be supplied by the wings of angels and cheribims." These are certainly very fair promises. We think, in case of a war, we should turn Mahometan.

The Hon. Sandy Welsh left this city for New York yesterday at 1 o'clock, P. M., in the rail-road cars—the Committee for Rhode Island met him at Pawtucket—the Boston Committee returned last evening. The Honorable gentleman has carried home with him a correct drawing of the Marlboro' Hotel, which he intends to present to his constituents.

John Shatterlee, of Phillipstown, Putnam county, N. Y., deliberately shot his wife on Saturday last, reloaded and shot again, to make all sure. He then drew the body to a swamp where he secreted it, and went about among his neighbors inquiring for his wife—saying that she had gone away, he knew not where. He was under arrest for the murder.

Iron Ore Discovered.—The Richmond Enquirer, in an article on the coal region in Chesterfield county, Virginia, gives the particulars of a discovery of a bed of rich iron ore, in the neighborhood of Salle's coal pits, in the upper end of that county.

The N. Y. Commercial does not speak loud enough about the injured ex-Sheriff Parkins to do any good. Will not some one ascertain the names of his principal persecutors—learn the history of his wrongs, and publish to the world an impartial account of the abuses he has received, and from whom?

The severest cut we have seen for some time, was inflicted upon an ill-natured churl the other day, (who had published some snarly remarks respecting an individual,) by copying his observations and attaching his name to them.

(F) This is just the weather for steamboat excursions—why don't the Bangor take a trip to Nantucket? A sail anywhere is delightful, however,—you can go to Niantic, Hingham, Portsmouth, Portland, and lots of other places, all along shore.

Emigrants Returning.—On Monday the ship Eliza Warwick, having on board 250 passengers, sailed for Liverpool from New York, and the ship Orpheus with between 100 and 200, was to sail for the same destination on Tuesday.

(F) They have a very snug company at the Lion. Mr and Mrs Held, we understand, are to appear there. Won't this make the stage look a little larger than it formerly did to the Herald?

Chaubert, the quack, fire eater, &c., who has married a lady in New York of a highly respectable family, and possessed of an immense fortune, is said to be so ignorant that he cannot write his name!

Lieut. Searle, who recently examined the Suwannee river, East Florida, which opens into the Gulf of Mexico, has ascertained that there are seven feet on the bar at low water.

Directors of the Atlas Bank chosen yesterday morning.—James Harris, Wm. H. Foster, Neh. Parsons, Elihu Williams.

From the statement of the 96 New York State Banks it appears that the whole circulation of the State held by the public, is only nine and a quarter millions of dollars. From that published above, it appears that the circulation of the 22 New York City Banks is only about 13-3 millions: Thus—

Notes in circulation

Notes held by the banks

Net circulation held by the public

Yet we hear the whigs ranting about the impracticality of a Specie circulation!

Peculiarities of the Marriage Ceremony in different Countries.—A Roman could not marry any woman who was not a Roman. Among the Romans, the kalends, nones and ides of every month were deemed unlucky for the celebration of marriage, and so was the whole month of May. The last and most propitious season was that which followed the ides of June.

In the primitive church, a second marriage was considered no other than a lawful concubinage, or a species of bigamy.

The Turks have three kinds of marriages, and three sorts of wives: legitimate, wives in kebabs, and slaves.

They marry the first, hire the second, and buy the third.

The people in Java marry and have children when they are only ten years old.

Among the Hindus polygamy is practised, but one wife is acknowledged as supreme.

In Russia, when a marriage is proposed, the lover, accompanied by a friend, goes to the house of the bride, and says to her mother, "Show us your merchandise, we have got money," referring to the ancient custom of buying a wife.

Among the Persians, marriages are conducted by female mediation. Polygamy is allowed, but the first married is the principal wife.

Among all savage nations, the wife is commonly bought by the husband from her father, or guardian, and the conclusion of the bargain constitutes the marriage. Among the Abissinians, the price varies from four horses down to a bottle of brandy. Among the Chinese, the bride is purchased by a present to her parents, and is never seen by her husband till after the ceremony.

The Hebrews purchased their wives, by paying down a competent dowry for them, which proves that they were an uncivilized people.

The ancient Assyrians sold their beauties by an annual auction.

St. Augustine approved marriages of the orthodox with heretics, for he hoped that the faithful spouse would convert the other; but Louis XIV condemned them, fearing that the unbeliever would pervert the believer.

In the United States marriages are forbidden by law between whites and negroes; but we believe no objections have been raised against marrying believers with unbelievers, except by the Reverend Mr Malcom of Boston.

(F) A portion of Mons. Poyen's students at Taunton, have published the following certificate, in contradiction of the report blowing up Monsieur and Miss Gleason, made by another portion of the class some weeks since: one of the signers below, Mr Duxbury, has magnified Miss Gleason himself, and believes her to be a true soubrette:—

To the Public.—The subscribers having been members of the class of 40 persons who attended the course of lectures on Animal Magnetism, delivered by Dr Chas. Poyen in this village, feel it due to justice to certify that they have been much instructed by the Scientific Lectures, and much gratified by the candid manner in which they were given.

As to the phenomena described by Dr Poyen the subscribers also declare that they have acquired indisputable proofs of their reality, having seen most of them repeatedly produced by several members of the class on some of their fellow citizens whose moral character, education, and standing in society, make it certain that there was no collusion whatever in the performances.

In consequence, the subscribers certify that they took no part at all in the writing and publishing of the report lately presented by four gentlemen of this town to the public. That, on the contrary, they were decidedly opposed to such a measure.

Taunton, July 24, 1837."

The ex-members of the Fire Department are taking prompt and honorable measures to prevent a repetition of the scenes of Tuesday evening; their movement is highly creditable to them, and cannot fail of having a very salutary effect. The Resolutions adopted by Capt Quinn's Company evince the right spirit—they display feelings worthy of sensible men—not the fractious ebullition of inconsiderate boys.

(F) The weather was very warm yesterday, and if we hadn't have broken our thermometer at about 1 o'clock, to keep the mercury from rising any higher, there is no knowing how hot it would have been before sunset.

In Saturday's Post, giving the opinion of Judge Davis, respecting destitute seamen, there was a misprint of "Circuit Court," instead of District Court.

At the stage, the quack, fire eater, &c., who has married a lady in New York of a highly respectable family, and possessed of an immense fortune, is said to be so ignorant that he cannot write his name!

Lieut. Searle, who recently examined the Suwannee river, East Florida, which opens into the Gulf of Mexico, has ascertained that there are seven feet on the bar at low water.

Directors of the Atlas Bank chosen yesterday morning.

James Harris, Wm. H. Foster, Neh. Parsons, Elihu Williams.

POLICE COURT.

Stage Robbery.—On Tuesday forenoon, Mrs Mary Ann Sleeper, residing at the South End, and Mrs. Mary Thomas, wife of a waiter at the Mount Washington House, were fellow passengers in a Providence car to Boston. Here they both took a Depot stage, and Mrs. Sleeper gave her travelling basket, containing muslin, shawl, miniature, ring, and buckles, and a small trunk containing about thirty dollars in gold, and ten in silver, to the driver, who placed it on his seat; and when she alighted at her residence she secured her other baggage, but forgot the basket. As soon as possible she sent to the driver to inquire for the basket, and he said, that the lady who had gone to the Mount Washington House asked him for it when she got out to ride in the South Boston Omnibus. Mrs. Sleeper then went over to the Mount Washington House, and there learnt that Mrs. Thomas had that day arrived in the cars, and Mrs. Sleeper once recognized her fellow passenger. Mr. Ford made an investigation, and found a basket, which Mrs. Sleeper positively identified by an ink stain inside. There was also found upon Mrs. Thomas $22.50 cts. in gold, and several pieces of silver coin. Two of the dollars, of a peculiar kind, and an English shilling, Mrs. Sleeper described, and identified. A quill was also in the basket, which Mrs. Sleeper remembered. Neither the trunk, or any other of the missing articles were found. Constable Andrews was sent for and arrested Mrs. Thomas; and the testimony of Mrs. Sleeper and Mr. Ford being as above stated, she was required to give bonds in the sum of $250 to appear for trial, before the Municipal Court. The bonds were put thus low to give her as good a chance as the law admits of to find bail, as she has two young children to take care of. Her husband is on wages, and has no pecuniary resources, and there is little probability that she will find the small bail required. This poverty is truly a great evil, but the surest way to aggravate it is to resort to dishonest means.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Committee, held at Worcester, August 1st, 1837, the following votes were passed:—

Voted, To recommend to the several County Committees, that they request the several towns and cities, in their respective counties, to send to the Democratic Convention to be held in Worcester, on the 3d Wednesday of September next, a number of delegates equal to the representation to which they were entitled in the last Legislature.
